

Land Warfare Conference 2018: Frequently Asked Questions

Q: Where is the conference this year?

A: This year's conference is at Church House, Dean's Yard, Westminster London SW1P 3NZ.
 Please enter using the Dean's Yard entrance
 Wheelchair access is located at the Great Smith Street entrance.

Q: How can I register to attend the conference?

A: If you are a member of the British Army, you will register with the conference through your chain of command. Please contact Major Charlie Winstanley for any army registration problems.

If you are not a member of the British army, you can visit <https://rusi.org/landwarfare> to register for the conference or contact landwarfare@rusi.org to request a booking form.

Q: Do I need to bring an identification document upon arrival? Do I need it throughout both days of the conference?

A: Yes, you will need to bring a photo ID and have it with you on both days. The name on the document you will be using needs to match the name you have registered with.

Q: What is appropriate attire for the conference?

A: Dress for the conference is business/lounge suits for private delegates and Barrack Dress for serving British Army personnel. Speakers and visiting delegations are encouraged to wear Service Dress (no leather or medals).

Q: Will the content of the conference be on the record?

A: As a general rule, speakers' prepared remarks will be on the record. Question and answer sessions will be off the record and not for reporting or attributable to the individual and event.

Session chairs will make clear to the audience which parts of the conference are on or off the record.

Q: Does RUSI offer discounted rates to the Land Warfare Conference?

A: Yes, RUSI offers discounted rates to the conference for the following groups:

- RUSI Corporate Members
- Government
- Academic
- UK Serving Military
- Diplomatic (including international military attendees)
- Small and Medium Enterprises ¹

Please note that you must be logged in as a corporate member for your discount to apply during online registration.

Q: What are the themes of the conference this year?

A: The conference will explore 'Twenty First Century Manoeuvre' through the following themes:

- Today's Strategic Context – the era of 'constant competition' and its policy challenges
- The Chiefs Panel – international Chiefs of Staff share their approaches to modernising land forces
- Confronting the Information Challenge – addressing and exploiting the demands of operating in an Information Age
- The Human Dimension – digital literacy, twenty-first century communication and maximising the talent on which they depend
- Future Combined Arms Operations – capability development and integration for operating dispersed, decentralised and cross-domain
- Training as Surrogate Warfare – enabling adaptation and innovation, building combat ethos and strategic outputs for reassurance and deterrence

* An SME is defined as a company with fewer than 250 employees and a turnover of less than £50m. Please note that SME registrants will be expected to prove their eligibility.

Q: Will refreshments be provided at the conference?

A: Refreshments and lunch will be available via a buffet service. Please advise Sajid Ali (SajidA@rusi.org) of any special dietary requirements as soon as possible. Vegetarian options will be available.

Q: Is parking available at Church House?

A: Due to its central location in the heart of Westminster, parking is limited around church house. We recommend that you arrive by tube at either the Westminster or St. James's Park station.

If you do drive to the conference, the nearest car park is the Abingdon Car Park (NCP) on Great College Street. The postcode is SW1P 3RX. It is approximately 5 minutes' walk from the conference centre.

Q: Will there be changing facilities at Church House?

A: There will be a cloakroom for depositing bags, uniforms or civilian clothes for military personnel, but no formal changing areas are available.
